I refer to previous communications regarding the merger of the Gist Limited Pension Scheme (GLPS) with the BOC Pension Scheme (BOCPS) which took place on 1 October 2020.

We have now merged your GLPS pension into BOCPS, which means you will see some changes to your payslips, P60's and reference numbers.

Payslips

You will receive a payslip in December for your newly transferred pension into BOCPS. Your tax code will be the same as it was in GLPS, but you will note that a new 'TAX REF' of 673/B203 will be shown in the additional information section.

In the future, you will continue to receive two pension payments, both from BOCPS.

If the tax code changes on either of your pensions, or your net pension differs by more than £1 compared to the previous month, you will receive a pension payslip. You will therefore receive a payslip for whichever of your pension payments this applies to; your newly transferred pension and/or one for your original BOCPS pension.

P60's

For the year ended 5 April 2021, you will receive a P60 showing both your GLPS pension up to November 2020 and your new BOCPS pension from December 2020 to March 2021 on one form. Your GLPS pension will show in the 'Pay and Income Tax details' section as pay in 'previous employment'. Your BOCPS pension from December 2020 to March 2021 will show as pay 'in this employment'.

You will still receive an additional P60 for your original BOCPS pension that was already in payment.

Going forward you will receive a separate P60 annually for each of your BOCPS pensions.

Reference numbers

Payslip: Your 'EMPLOYEE NUMBER' on your payslip for your new BOCPS pension will change from a number that began with P9, e.g. P912345 to a number beginning with a P19, e.g. P1912345.

P60: Your 'Works/Payroll Number' on your P60 for your newly merged BOCPS pension will change to a different number but will still be in the same format e.g. 08123456. This is the reference number that BOC will use to provide information to HMRC.

PAYE: Each of your BOCPS pensions will be shown under the same Employer PAYE reference: 673/B203. You should use this and your 'Works/Payroll Number' shown on your P60 as your reference when dealing with correspondence to HMRC.
